

Council to act on rubbish pact

By HENRY CANTIN

The Romulus City Council is scheduled to take formal action this week on awarding a three-year rubbish collection contract.

Two bid proposals, one submitted by the American Rubbish Disposal of 5757 N. Lilley Rd., Plymouth, and the other by the city's current rubbish contractor, Canejo Trucking Inc., of 16321 Dodge St., Romulus, have been received by the city.

The bid proposals detailed collection costs over one-, two- and three-year periods, as requested by the city.

Romulus' current rubbish collection cost is in excess of $90,000, it was reported. The current contract expired in February and the Canejo firm's contract has been continued pending the awarding of a new contract.

Cost estimates submitted by the two firms for a three-year period showed a difference of more than $100,000, it has been reported.

Upon receipt of the proposals, the City Council referred them to City Attorney John E. Young for legal review.

At the May 2 council meeting, Young reported the bid proposals were in proper order and that both concerns were able to perform the terms of their proposals.

The American Rubbish Disposal Co. submitted a unit price bid of 38 cents for a three-year contract, 39 cents for a two-year contract and 40 cents for a one-year contract.

Canejo Trucking Inc. submitted a unit price bid of 42 cents for a three-year contract, 41 cents for a two-year contract and 40 cents for a one-year contract.

The city presently has 5,378 rubbish collection stops, including residential and commercial.

For a 100 per cent pickup, the unit price bid of American for a three-year contract remains the same, at 38 cent per pickup. The Canejo firm requested an additional eight cents or a total of 52 cents per pickup.

The total reported collection cost for a three-year contract to the Canejo firm would amount to $419,384 as against a total of $318,808 for American. It was also reported the American Rubbish Disposal Co. maintains its own rubbish disposal site, whereas the Canejo firm transports its rubbish to Sumpter Township.

One city official reported this may have had a bearing on the wide difference in the bid proposals.

The City of Romulus currently is having a problem of rubbish dumpers in some areas of the city, Mayor Hyle J. Carmichael reported.

Police and DPW employees as well as residents have reported finding discarded household items—old stoves and refrigerators—included—in ditches alongside city roads and city streets in less populated areas of the community.

It is the hope of the city administration that the council will approve a rubbish collection contract calling for a 100 per cent weekly pickup throughout the city.

Such a contract plus strict police action against persons caught dumping in the city would materially aid in keeping Romulus clean, Mayor Hyle J. Carmichael said.

The mayor also reported he and his administrative staff are working on plans for an all-out clean-up campaign for the City of Romulus.

A proposed 1972-73 general operating budget for the City of Romulus will be discussed and reviewed by city council members at an executive session to be held this week.

Council President Jimmie Raspberry requested the executive session, which is being scheduled prior to the setting of a public hearing at the May 2 council session.

His request to have City Attorney John E. Young and City Finance Director Mrs. Helen Gallien present at the executive session and to have Mayor Hyle J. Carmichael excluded was approved by the council.

The City Charter requires the council to adopt an annual operating budget 45 days before the end of the fiscal year on June 30.

According to the proposed budget, city operating expenditures for the 1972-73 fiscal year are $2,871,340 water department budget is $2,837,000 and local, major and Michigan Highway Vehicle

Jaycees hold essay contest

"What Americanism means to Me" is the subject of the essay contest being conducted by the Romulus Jaycees for all seventh and eighth grade students at Romulus Junior High School.

The Romulus Jaycees feel the subject of the essay is an ever-current topic. The contest will provide each and every student with an opportunity to give some thought to an idea too often taken for granted both by young and old.

It is hoped it also will help bridge the "generation gap" by enabling both parents and children to work together on this project in combining their thinking on the subject.

The essays will be judged on content, including originality and relevancy to subject, organization of essay to include clarity and brevity, English usage including spelling, choice of words, sentence structure, grammar and punctuation.

The prizes to be awarded will include savings bonds, American flags, decorative plaques, and certificates of recognition.

The winning essays will be announced and awards and prizes presented at the Romulus Junior High School yearly Honor Awards Assembly in June.

Recreation to be cut short

A shortage of funds in the recreation budget will, in the coming weeks, force a sharp reduction in the recreational programs sponsored and supervised by the Romulus Parks and Recreation Department.

Frank J. Tolish, director of the department, has notified all recreational personnel for the city and schools that, effective May 3, most of the recreation programs already scheduled will be postponed until June 19.

Tolish announced that volunteers will be required to continue a few of the programs until then or maybe longer. He also reported in his notice there is no possibility of additional appropriations for the 1971-72 recreational fiscal year.

The 1971-72 operating budget for the parks and recreation department totaled $47,800, consisting of $10,500 for operating supplies and $35,000 for contractual services, with the balance for miscellaneous items and accounts.

The budget approved by the City Council was set up for a part-time recreational operation prior to the appointment of Tolish last January as the full-time parks and recreation director.

At the May 3 council meeting, Tolish presented two financial assistance requests he said were necessary to continue current recreational programs and those scheduled in the coming weeks.

Tolish, who maintained at the hearing that the department's budget was not overdrawn, asked the council to approve a $3,000 transfer from the operating supplies account to the contractual services account. He also requested the council's approval on the transfer of another $3,000 from the city's contingent fund to the recreation department budget.

Some council members criticized Tolish for permitting a deficiency in the contractual services account to occur without appraising the officials before it happened.

COOPERATIVE EDUCATION BANQUET — The fourth annual co-op banquet sponsored by the Distributive Education Club of America and the Office Education Association, both located at Romulus Senior High School, attracted more than 130 students and employers at the Inn Keeper Restaurant at Detroit Metropolitan Airport last Tuesday night. The co-op students held the banquet to honor the employers participating in the high school's Cooperative Education Program. Fred C. Kauffman, (center) Kelsey-Hayes Co. executive, shown with a group of students, was one of the employers honored.

Romulus High co-op students thank employers with banquet

Employers participating in Romulus Senior High School's Distributive Education Club of America (DECA), work-study program were honored by participating students last week at a banquet in the Innkeeper Restaurant at Detroit Metropolitan Airport.

The dinner was sponsored by the Office Education

Association (OEA) and Distributive Education Club of America (DECA), work-study organizations at the high school.

Students in the associations are able to receive on-the-job experiences with different local firms for part of the regular school day, with OEA members concentrating on secretarial skills and DECA stressing retail abilities.

The special guests for the banquet were the employers for whom the students worked throughout the year. Nearly 140 employers and student employees attended, representing 45 firms and businesses.

The program opened with the singing of the National Anthem by Joyce Askew, a Romulus High School student recently named to the Youth International Choir. Marcia Hester, student president of OEA, and William Cox, DECA president, presided over the dinner and activities.

Each club added a skit to the evening's entertainment, OEA featuring a "Laugh-In" take-off on office situations, while DECA members depicted the evolution of retail stores.

Joel R. Carr, senior high principal, delivered a short address complimenting the students involved and thanking the cooperating employers and the clubs' sponsors, Barb Cornell and Mike Birmingham, both of the senior high teaching staff.

Special recognition and a plaque also were given to Fred Kauffman, co-op liaison for Kelsey-Hayes Co., who is retiring at the end of the year. Through Kauffman's efforts, Kelsey-Hayes has been one of the most active participants in the cooperative venture, this year employing 15 students from OEA.

questions about the department," Haile said. "It should be much more convenient."

Lt. Haile said Patrolman Ron Brown has been temporarily assigned to the community relations office and will be there daily.

"There will also be another officer there working with Ron, and I will be in and out of there myself nearly every day," he said. "All the people have to do is come in or give us a call."

The phone number of the new office is 941-3333.

Local citizens with complaints or questions about law enforcement can now get answers much faster than before.

The Wayne County Sheriff's Road Patrol last week opened a branch office of their Community Relations Division in Romulus.

The new office is housed in the Department of Public Works building, 365 1/2 Bibbins, and will be staffed by at least two uniformed officers. For the present, the office will be open daily from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Community Relations director, Lt. James Haile, explained the function of the new office for Romulus residents in an interview last week.

"The purpose of this office will be to try and get the road patrol a little closer to the community and make it more accessible," he said. "That way we may be able to improve our relations with the citizens."

The lieutenant said it will no longer be necessary for a Romulus resident to drive all the way to road patrol headquarters in Westland to voice a complaint or obtain information.

"There will be at least two officers here to give information concerning police functions and answer

Hayti school fair is storybook trip

People by the hundreds came to Hayti Elementary School on Saturday, to enjoy a trip through story book land with Snoopy and his friends.

A joint effort by parents and teachers under the leadership of Chairman Mrs. Carole Filkins turned the event into a smoothly run day of carnival like games, prizes and food.

According to Mrs. Donna Lee Zabitz, PTA president, main attractions were Fred William's Spook Room and the Dance Room that featured Kevin Finley's group, the Modified Editions.

Band members donated their services, said Mrs. Zabitz, to assist the group in carrying on their dental care program. Most of the band members were former Hayti students, who had benefitted from the PTA sponsored program.

To make the day complete, Snoopy was among the fairgoers. However, he didn't say a word as he wandered through the crowds.

His bird, "Woodstock," perched on his finger, he escorted the little ones through the maze of people to enjoy the games and events.

Most surprised person of the day was Jackie Maner, a 5th grader who won a pony in the raffle. The pony was donated by Norman Guilford.

Council okay expected

Eight proposals for an improvement work contract for Romulus' initial urban renewal project have been accepted by the Romulus City Council, but formal approval of the low bid awaits finalization by both the U. S. Department of Housing and Development (HUD) and the council.

George Wilhelm, urban renewal director, who along with City Engineer Charles Hellman, presented the proposals to the council, reported HUD had no objection to the low bidder and the finalization papers for council's formal action will be ready for the next council meeting.

The low bidder for the estimated $1.5 million in project improvements was submitted by John Carlo Inc., of Warren. The bid was $1,116,242.99. Other bids received by the city ranged up to $1,330,470.20.

Romulus' initial urban renewal project involves 175 acres, located in the Wayne-Beverly roads area. The project is the first phase of 575 acres of land embraced in the total urban renewal program.

The 175-acre land parcel is bounded by Chamberlain Street, Beverly, Howe and Van Born roads.

The proposed improvements include grading, paving and drainage. The paving involves 3½ miles of streets.

Rec funds cut short

Tolish said he was merely meeting the recreational requests of Romulus residents in providing various forms of recreational activity. He further explained the department now was operating on a full-time basis.

Councilman William M. Oakley made a motion that the sum of $3,400 be transferred from the operating supplies account to the contractual services account. He was supported by Councilman Edmund W. Bizek.

The council approved the motion by denied Tolish's request for a transfer of funds from the city's contingency account.

Tolish reported Monday the following programs will continue since volunteers are available:

Pekinese pup needs new home

The Van Buren Township dog warden, Billy Minyard is looking for a new home for a Pekinese puppy that had been turned in at the township hall Friday afternoon.

The small, long-haired dog is about six months old. Its former owner reported that small children in the family were a "little too rough" with the puppy.

Any person interested in having the puppy as a pet may contact the dog warden by calling 697-9169, or visit the dog pound, located at Hannan and Tyler roads.

In our opinion

Flyer distribution was done illegally

A recall election against seven members of the Sumpter Township Board of Trustees will be held on May 16, the same date as the presidential primary.

The recall campaign to oust all of the township officials is the result of recall petition drives initiated by two separate citizens groups in the township.

The reasons for recall against the township's four trustees and clerk include several areas of governmental activity, including charges of voting for "arbitrary and unreasonable board actions which have caused widespread unrest among township residents."

The township supervisor and township treasurer were charged with "incompetence" in a separate recall action.

Court challenges against the recall petitions initiated by township officials were unsuccessful. The court held the petitions valid and ordered the election to be held.

The administration of good government calls for the wholehearted cooperation between elected officials and citizens.

In Sumpter Township, such cooperation has been noticeably absent since shortly after the election of the present township board in 1970.

Personality clashes, lack of united cooperation, charges and counter-charges between the supervisor and treasurer and remaining board members have resulted in division and dissension among community residents, with resulting recall campaigns.

Township officials are fighting the recall. Some board members have resorted to the distribution in violation of the law of published news articles favorable to their cause.

Local postal officials have reported that these news articles have been deposited in residential mail boxes in violation of U.S. postal regulations, which allow only paid postage mail to be deposited in mail boxes.

We have no control over the distribution by these officials of news articles reflecting the position of one side of any controversy.

But we oppose such distribution in violation of postal regulations and more so when such news articles are taken from the columns of this newspaper.

Speaking of schools

You can't pay less and enjoy it more!

By JOHN E. McCAULEY, State Senator, 11th District

A few days ago I read the April edition of "Compact," a magazine published by the Education Commission of the States.

This particular issue was devoted to the question of financing education, and I am certainly impressed with the fact that an organization such as this recognizes there are no free rides in education and there is no possibility of paying less and enjoying it more.

This is exactly what I have been saying for more than two years. It is impossible to expect greater governmental spending in every area while paying less taxes.

Do not be deceived by those who claim they have some near magic formula which will take away the burden of property taxes while giving you better schools.

Some months ago the California Supreme Court, in an historic decision known as Serrano vs. Priest, held that the level of spending for a child's publicly financed elementary or secondary education may not be a function of wealth.

What that really means is very complicated, but, fundamentally what it says is that a rich school district cannot use its ability to raise property taxes and provide superior schools for that district alone.

The decision does not eliminate property taxes. Indeed, it would seem to me that the decision indicates we could have a state-wide property tax.

Now it appears that certain organizations and individuals have taken the position that what is needed is a constitutional amendment for Michigan that would effectively eliminate the property tax as a source of school operation expenses.

Whether or not this matter will get on the ballot is a matter of getting signatures on petitions. I note with interest there are several petitions being circulated, including one which would issue vouchers for school expenses to the individual student. This proposal would circumvent the banning of aid to parochial schools, a position that was taken by a majority of those voting on the question some time ago.

Of course, the legislature by two-thirds vote could put a school financing question on the ballot. The fact is that we do not have two-thirds for any of the proposals that have been proffered, since the real issue on many of them is whether we will have a graduated or a flat rate income tax.

As a matter of fact, the real issue is not these various schemes for financial support for our schools at all. The issue is what the people of Michigan want for their children and what they are willing to pay.

More than that, there is the issue of those who are trying to shell-game the populace by saying that you will pay less taxes and get more education.

There will be no radical revision of the tax structure or the means of state support for kindergarten through 12th grade education during this year. The matter now becomes one of what kind of traditional school aid bill the legislature will pass.

Unless I completely miss my guess, if the school aid bill contains great increases in the cost of busing students from here to there, it will be defeated. I do not believe that a majority of the legislature, the same body that gave my anti-school busing resolution more than two thirds support in each House, will turn around and give vast sums of money to the busing programs of public schools.

As your Senator, let me assure you that I have heard the message loud and clear. I have heard it years ago, and this accounts for the reason I have consistently voted for less spending. It's an old truth that you don't get something for nothing. Hopefully, we have a chance to establish better priorities of spending.

However, the main issue is no more taxes, and more than that a reduction of taxes, and to the very best of my ability, that is what I will work for in the weeks and months ahead.

Electors dissatisfied with Sumpter policy?

To the editor,

It seems that five Sumpter Township officials do not want to read "the handwriting on the wall."

The action of the people at the recent annual board meeting was a desperate cry of help, which the board would have done well to heed.

They claim that action taken at that meeting was done with the help of outsiders. Mr. James O. Brown (trustee) quoted that approximately 50 per cent of the people were non-residents.

I've lived in the township 23 years, yet I would not be so stupid to claim I personally knew everyone at that meeting. In glancing over the crowd there that day, everyone looked familiar. Two persons were non-residents, Mr. Louis Wechsler and a representative from the township engineering consultants, but neither voted on any issue.

If these five officials knew there were non-residents voting, then they again showed their stupidity and were very remiss in their duty by not challenging these people's right to vote right then, not in the newspaper days later.

The courts may have to settle the question as to "the right of the people" as opposed to "the right of the board." But one thing was determined at that meeting and that was that of the electors present at that meeting, the majority are very dissatisfied with the way the township officials are running their local government.

Mrs. Pauline Quinley,
Sumpter Township.

A mother is...

A mother is, you will find,
A person that is very kind.
Some people take advantage of their mother,
But most will find no other.
A mother is always there
Though some people don't care.
A mother is someone who cares
And everything she has she shares.
You know mothers are the kind
To worry all the time.
Even if it's the best of seasons,
There's always a reason.
And even though you treat her bad,
She'll never ever get mad.
A mother is understanding
But never demanding.
A mother sits in the background
While you go and play around.
A mother you can rely upon
For everything under the sun.
She tries never to be sad
Even when things are really bad.
A mother never gets sick or ill
For her children are her only will.
And when she cries, comfort her
Because she gave her life for yours.
Yes, a mother is all these things above,
But especially a mother is love.

Helping teachers--valuable resources

BY Mrs. Roberta Spink, HELPING TEACHER
BEVERLY ELEMENTARY SCHOOL IN ROMULUS

The Helping Teacher will meet regularly with those children who have been certified for the program. She will be assigned on a full-time basis in a well-lighted room suitable for individual and small group activities.

Additionally, the Helping Teacher will serve as a resource for teachers and children when a crisis situation arises and on an on-going basis in assisting teachers to develop workable programs for Title 1 children who cannot be worked with on a regular basis.

Title 1 students are those who have been certified for placement in the program through the services of the consulting psychological staff. Those pupils who cannot be worked with on a regular basis will be seen in crisis situations. At the end of the year it is expected that each child enrolled in the program will be better equipped to handle his or her regular grade placement with minimum or no assistance from the helping teacher. When a child is referred to the helping teacher, his "program for help" follows this path:

The child is tested either by the psychologist and/or the helping teacher. Classroom achievement and behavior information are gathered through the "Teachers Child Study Worksheet." Physical development and home behavior are gathered from the parents conference.

The results of the testing are used to diagnose the child's weak and strong learning areas. The psychologist sends his diagnosis to the school as a psychological report. This process is much like what a doctor would do.

Through the planning conference, a prescription is prepared for the child. The principal, the teacher, the social worker and the helping teacher are active participants in the conference.

The helping teacher and the paraprofessional work together to institute the prescription through the use of special materials and teaching techniques.

The child who needs extensive remedial help in his diagnosed weak areas meet with the helping teacher regularly (daily, three times a week, etc.) to work individually with special materials.

Michigan Week activities planned

By THEODORE F. KUCKELMAN Executive Secretary
Belleville Chamber of Commerce

Michigan Week in our community will feature the Belleville School Fair, May 20 and 21. Watch for displays of arts and crafts, science, home economics and industrial arts in the Masonic Temple and local merchants' windows.

What does $100 billion dollars amount to? C.I.T. Financial Corp. comes up with a measurement for $100 billion, which is the amount of financing it has done in the past 20 years.

In dollar bills, $100 billion would reach to the moon and back 20 times. It would also provide $480 in cash for every man, woman and child in the U.S. The federal spending

Don't Forget the VFW Memorial Day Parade on Sunday, May 21, beginning at 1 p.m. from Victory Park and proceeding to Hillside Cemetery for graveside services. Don't forget to display your flag!

For our new residents: Lower Huron Metropolitan Park, covering 1,200 acres near Belleville, has several picnic areas along the Huron River and many with play equipment throughout the park, plus a winding parkway, 18-hole golf course, tot lot with play equipment. Swimming pool and food service will be available Saturday, May 27. Park hours are sunrise to 11 p.m.

New board and officers at work: Our first full board meeting was held May 4. Each board member has been made chairman of a committee.

The next full board and membership meeting with wives will be held June 29. The speaker will be William Lucas, sheriff of Wayne County. No meetings are scheduled in July and August.

Pulaski Day bill signed into law

By EDUARDE E. MAHALAK State Representative 38th District

As legislation moves steadily through the House and senate, more and more bills are winning final approval and being signed into law. Included are a number of important new public acts.

The governor just signed into law a bill which I introduced to designate Oct. 11 of each year as Casimir Pulaski Day in honor of the Polish hero of the American Revolutionary War. Oct. 11 marks the date that Pulaski died of wounds suffered while leading American and French cavalry in the siege of Savannah.

Born of a noble family, Pulaski fought tyranny in his native Poland, was outlawed and fled to France. While in France, he met Benjamin Franklin and offered his services to the American cause. He distinguished himself at the Battle of Brandywine and was promoted to the rank of brigadier general.

He was with Washington at Valley Forge and organized a corps of cavalry and light infantry known as Pulaski's Legion. Although the exact date of his birth is uncertain, he was only about 31 years old at the time of his death. In the years since his death, he has come to be a symbol of Polish-American friendship.

Another of the bills signed, the result of months of effort, revision and compromise, is Michigan's new Billboard Control Law. Basically, the law prohibits the placement of billboards in rural areas except when adjacent to commercial or industrial buildings and sets standards for the size, spacing and lighting of billboards.

Standards applying to urban areas extend for as much as one mile outside those areas if they are zoned commercial or industrial.

The law also permits a city, village or township to establish ordinances with stronger controls than those set by the state. It also carries a system of fees for billboard owners and requires a permit for the erection of billboards.

There is no "grandfather" clause to protect existing billboards. It has been estimated that this will require the removal of some 3,000 of the 15,000 signs along freeway routes and as many as 12,500 more along primary federal and state highways.

The act is immediately effective. It is felt to be in compliance with the Federal Highway Beautification Act. The U.S. Department of Transportation had pressured for the new Michigan law, threatening to withhold some $20 million in highway funds unless the state passed a billboard regulation law which complied with the federal act.

Still another new law takes a new approach to the problem of pollution by industries and public utilities. It allows municipalities to use revenue bonds to finance the construction, improvement and repair of air and water pollution control facilities. The equipment could then be leased to industries and utilities. The bonds would be repaid through the lease payments so that no taxes or public credit need be involved.

Hopefully, this new law will save existing jobs and possibly create new ones. There are many cases of firms which face the prospect of going out of business because they cannot afford the pollution control devices required by law.

Under this latest legislation, such businesses would be able to lease the equipment from the local community at far less cost than it would take to construct and install the facilities themselves.

Another important new law requires that bus drivers for public, private and parochial schools take bus safety education courses sponsored by the state. The same act also requires that school buses have certain additional safety devices and first aid equipment, prohibits the transporting of anyone other than pupils, teachers or chaperones of the students on the buses and lowers the minimum age for bus drivers from 21 to 18 years. This last merely brings the school bus law into conformity with Michigan's new Age of Majority Act.

Police training sessions started

A series of in-service training seminars for local police officers have been initiated by Belleville's new Police Chief Clayton "Mickey" McLaughlin. The sessions will help acquaint the police officers with new laws and to provide up-to-date data on police techniques and methods. The initial meetings were held last week and covered narcotics training. A chemist, Bodar Kominsky, from the Wayne County Sheriff's laboratory, spoke on the new marijuana law, how to distinguish between different types of narcotics, and how to test a suspected drug user. Police officers from Van Buren, Huron and Sumpter townships and area park rangers are participating in the seminars. Future sessions are to be held bi-monthly and will include criminal law, procedures of arrest, traffic and other subjects the police officers would like to cover, McLaughlin reported.

Troop 830 scouts clean up roadside

As part of Earth Week, the scouts of Troop 830 of the Hayti Elementary School area in Romulus conducted a neighborhood clean-up. On Thursday, April 27, they picked up car loads of litter along the roadside near their meeting place on Beverly Road. Adult leaders who assisted the boys were Scoutmaster Denver Profit and Committeeman Jack Nasi. Those who performed the clean-up chore were Mark

Bishop, Steve Buck, Leland Guilford, Floyd Lalonde, David Meyer, Donald Meyer, Raymond Meyer, Kris Nasi, David Noeyak, Kevin Profit, Tom Rarick, Bob Smith and Tony Sussine. The boys are now planning a newspaper drive that will continue through the month to help raise funds for a two-day canoe trip on the Au Sable River. Anyone wishing to help may contact Denver Profit at his home at 6955 Merriman Rd.

Planners consider rezoning

A petition to rezone 40 acres of land along on Hull Road east of Sumpter Road has been referred to the city planning commission by the Belleville City Council.

The petition was filed by James F. Ackron of Belleville, who seeks to rezone the land parcel from R-1 (residential) to R-T (trailer court).

In another action last week, the city council approved an interim sewage connection between Van Buren and Ypsilanti townships for an apartment complex on Huron River Drive and Rawsonville Road.

A new Public Access Program which allows hunting, fishing, hiking and trapping on private lands will be opened up in Kent, Branch, Berrien, Hillsdale and Washtenaw counties for the remainder of 1972.

A total of 1,041 requests for agreements have been filed in the five counties which offer 145,000 acres for public use.

These areas will be open as soon as agreements can be completed and the lands posted. These lands will be marked by a sign saying "Hunting permitted without charge on certain lands on this farm." The fishing sites will also be identified by a similar sign.

Anyone using these areas for recreational use must report at the farm headquarters. These farms may be located by inquiring at any one of the ASCS offices in the counties or by calling or writing the Michigan State ASCS office in East Lansing.

All agreements are expected to be completed and farms identified by early

The recent Romulus High School production of "Up the Down Staircase" by members of the Theatre Arts Club was an outstanding success for the cast.

Friday night's performance reflected the inexperience of the cast, with some mistakes in lines and timing. However, the Saturday performance on April 29 can only be called excellent.

Actors were primed and ready for their parts. Scene changes, light cues, the pace of the play and enthusiasm of each character blended together for an unexcelled performance by the young acting group.

The audience viewed performances that are matched in quality to those provided by college and amateur level dramatic presentations.

Individual performances by the primary characters, played by Jill Lynn Haislip, Joe Bledsoe, Mark Lewkowicz, Norm Pritt, and Barb Gibas, were outstanding.

Secondary leads played by Addell Austin, Marge Rohde and Marc Engebretsen gave the story the highlights necessary for a successful performance, and the remaining 21 actors and actresses, for their devotion and time, receive no less credit for the success.

In the experience of the directors, large casts normally create problems during performances. Saturday night reflected the true spirit of the theatre both backstage and on stage.

Backstage duties were performed by Cindy Snyder and Dave Currie, in charge of lighting, and Eileen McCormack, doing the prompting.

High school drama activities are completed for the year. However, the Romulus High School auditorium will be in use this summer as the Romulus City Players continue their services by working on children theatre programs for Romulus residents.

There will be a meeting of members of the Romulus City Players on May 14 at 7 p.m. at the residence of Kay Zaika, 36773 Bibbins, Romulus. Phone 427-4068 for more information.

Planned summer activities include a theatre program for young teens and a second program for adults. Both groups will produce children's plays.

The Romulus City Players are supported by the Romulus Department of Parks and Recreation.

Askew, senior, who has been selected to participate with the International Youth Choir this summer. All of the musical selections presented at the event were by high school student singers.

SITTING AT MARCO'S recently, with Mrs. "Marco" we talked about what makes a place great. "I guess," said this wise Lady, "you just keep trying to make it even greater." This formula has worked for Stella and Marco, who were at this same location (MARCO'S is at 38410 Grand River, in Farmington) for many years. People who were passing through then, still remember the Food...and come back! "They look around" Stella remarked proudly, "and say WOW! What's happening?" Whatever it is, it's sure to be happening at Marco's... this we know! You are welcomed as though you have come into their home. Names are remembered. Your favorite table, be it by the huge fireplace... in a candlelit corner... by the Orchestra... wherever, is made available. The Food always was, and still is superb! The Service is incomparable. Nothing is left unattended. NOW, MR. TONY REDA, Television Star and former Director of Video Arts at U. of D., joins the Staff as Host... to insure your total enjoyment. KIM & DALLAS are featured Wednesday thru Sat'day, along with the THREE MAN ALARM. And when you put them all together... you offer a small libation to just what we were searching for: the things that make a place Great! Reservations Needed Fridays & Saturdays!

SID KOGAN, a Broker who can always give you a tip on the Bulls in Bears. Now me, I like the four-leggeds that runniddle faster! B-U-I, having made it big with this fella's help in the past... I figured a tip or two was in order, sooo, I estimated who would place at DRC (and who would suffer off). Then I gave him the B-I-G tip! "B-C BEAU-J'S, right on Inkster at Schoolcraft, across from the track", I sez, "to stay in the Winner's Circle!" Host Bob Markley was never a slow starter...and he has bred a Fun Spot that brings cheers in every mail, nowadays! They tell me about the Steaks and about the Surf and Turf with Mushroom Cap like there's been a whole lotta entries... but Beau-J's out-paced 'em ALL! Top ALL this with pretty MISS TRICIA LYNN and her BIG sound Group... and you can scratch anything else you ever thought was F-U-N! If you're at DRC... Win, lose or draw... put your faith in Beau-J's Lounge to bring you more feelin'-good pleasure than anything else you ever tried! And the 1st guy who spots Cap Patric wins again... because your Drink's on ME!

(Wait right there...I'm racin-over!)

UNLESS IT'S TIME OUT for Moonlight and Music... and a ride around the lake, around Walled Lake, that is. On the north side. And suddenly there you are at THE SQUIRE'S TABLE, 1403 S. Commerce... fancy that!! And you can't hardly get fancier than that... if you're moonlightin'... and in the mood for listening and dreaming. Eunice and Larry Bongiovanni have created a place away, where the opening words on the Menu are: "With the same dedication of the Squire to his Knight, we honor your presence at our table, hoping we will bring you the most enjoyable evening ever." And they do! The food is a "Holiday in Europe" Gourmet-offering, including Breast of Chicken, Cordon Bleu... Beef en Brochette... Stroganoff... Scallopini... Cape Code, Gulf Stream and Australian Seafood, to mention a few. Cocktails smack of other places, too... with Cointreau and Benedictine and a Tia Maria or two coming across the Bar before Dinner... with French German and Italian Wines on the table with your meal. (Of course...you can have Napa Valley Burgundy or anything else you prefer.) And THEN...and then...there's Bob Posch...who has been playing pretty music in such high class places that when you invite him over for an evening of wine, women and song, he asks you "what kinda wine?" But the music is so pretty you forgive him and after he gets her smiling... he stops playing and just talks till she laughs out loud! And the ride home is infinitely cozier than the ride there. Oh, that Squire's Table... it brings out the Men in us boys.

DID YOU MISS the grand Opening of the N.E.W. CONTINENTAL BAR & RESTAURANT (at 49110 Grand River, at 12 Mile, in Novi)? Because IF you did... don't ever miss a happening at this place again! Fred and Bea Burleigh made their friends welcome, and pretty happy, too, in The Continental for a lotta years. Then they decided to follow the sun and turned the place over to SON DON BURLEIGH, and his Wife, the Beautiful "MISS BETTY". They remodeled... created a whole new image... made this new Sunday-ride-and-Dinner-Out place for Families to plan on. And people we know... and people you ALL flock to see... came along 3 nights in a row, to do their things and say "luck" to the kids! Ronny Coden... Charlie Taylor (The Fat Leprechaun)... "Roubina", who makes my heart shake like her belly...my lifelong buddy, Mr. Pete Angel, who still fiddles like an Angel... Erik & Shelley... Tim Hazel... Singin' Sylvia... Marty and Marty, who'll stay on at The Continental till May 30th, a lotta TV good Buddies, including Sunny Sonny Elliott... and MORE... all were there with us for fun YOU shoulda had! You still can, of course. Any time at all. And especially Sundays when Chef Lanny (formerly at London Chop House and Scotch 'n Sirloin) whips up those Family Dinners! So if you DID miss it... DON'T miss the Continental from now on!

PHIL MARCUS ESSER was the 1st one they questioned. "This farmer sed he saw you on the property just before the shotgun blast", they explained. CHARLIE LATTIMER immediately sprang (sprang?) to his Constituent's defense. "Did they see him kill any birds?" he demanded hotly. "No" sez Spizak, "but I don't figger those pigeons flew in his pocket to commit suicide! Good thing I was there! 'Lissen, these are famous Musicians!" I cajoled. "They starring at The Colonial Lounge, at 19170 Farmington Rd., in Livonia! And these birds are probably music lovers. Music Lovers DO fly straight to The Colonial Lounge, y'know! On Mondays, there's 'Superstar Night'... when anything can happen! (Even Pigeons get up and warble!) And every week there's a special drink! T'other day I had the 'Carefree Cocktail'... makes you see double... and feel single! This Spizak, he's a man with soul. 'I've heard about the place' he admitted. He let go of Esser's arm. "Also, I'm a guy who understands time and space. And I know I haveta make time to get a space on the parking lot!" Therefore, friends, let us credit not only the Brothers Malamis with bringing us Phil Marcus Esser and Charlie Lattimer this week... but a famous Detective who knows a bird in the pocket is worth... nothing compared to the Music at The Colonial Lounge! And if you can read this music, Man... sit in. ♪

I HAVVA GIRL who WON'T go anywhere without her Mother. (Fortunately, her Mother will go anyplace!) This coming Sunday however...we won't be taking Mother just "anyplace! No, indeedy. We have a friend of whom we are very proud...and who is Host to people who love good FOOD... good MUSIC... and GOOD COMPANY! Nice People come to THE DANISH INN, at 33305 Grand River, in Farmington. It's the sort of place you want to take your best Gal's Mother. For this reason, SuperHost Dick Benske will open... just this ONE Sunday of the year for people who want to treat Mother to a Meal of a lifetime! And his own youngsters: Robin, Cindy, Debbie and Rick may have had a hand in planning the special goodness Dick will be serving... because Mom, Barbara Benske, knows her Family fare... and the small fry will be remembering her favorites and urging Dad to put them on the Menu! When Dick managed The Danish Inn (until he bought it in 1964), he had some special ideas about what to serve Families, too. ALL these things are reflected in this coming Sunday's famous Mother's Day Menu, which should be a MUST... not just for Moms who go "anyplace" (and I'm only kiddin', Honey)... but for Moms who wouldn't EVER go "just anyplace". So if she appreciates Fine Food... do like me an my girl and her Mother. GO DANISH!!

AND THERE ARE among us a very select group of Ladies who do, like, 24 jobs aplece: Chauffeurs, Tailors, Den Mothers, Teachers, emergency M.D.'s and Bottle Washers by day but Glamor Girls at Dinnertime...and a 1-000-ng list of other things! And chances are they're Shopping for Mother's Day Gifts for their own Mothers, besides all that! These are the Ladies we meet often at VICTOR'S, at 3410 Ford Rd., in Westland! They're likely to show up in anything from their new Sizzlers to an evening Gown... in the cool of the day... or in the middle of the night! And they may be meeting the girls... or toting the Baby... or stopping, with Father, for just one cuppa-coffee on the way home from that rare night out! For these Gals, EVERY day is Mother's Day at VICTOR'S. Because it's open 24 hours a day...365 days a year... no matter what you want to eat... or take home... or just relax with! It's there when you're happy... and when you're kinda beat. Victor's feeds come-as-you-are Families on a stand-in-Mom basis all the time. And I just want to add, Mother, if this ISN'T your day... don't take it out on Poppa. Take him and the Kids "out", instead... to Victor's!

Dance classes have been sponsored by the PTA group for several years. Instructions are offered weekly after school at a cost of $9.50 for 10 lessons.

Instructions for this year were completed with yesterday's class but will be resumed in September, Mrs. Abbley explained.

Musician awards given Hayti alumni

Rosemary Taylor and Bob Smith, eighth grade students at Romulus Junior High School, have been chosen to receive the first annual Hayti Elementary School Alumnae Music Scholarship Award.

Rosemary, who plays the clarinet, and Bob, who plays trombone, were chosen by band director Richard Kruse to spend the week of Aug. 6-11 at the Smith-Wallbridge Music Camp, located in Syracuse, Ind.

The award was made possible by the Hayti PTA group to encourage musicianship among its students. The winners were chosen from those Hayti graduates who have shown outstanding ability and interest in music. They will be recognized officially at the last PTA meeting of the year, where outstanding achievement among Hayti students is honored.

Karate class has registration

Testing for students in the Romulus Continuing Education karate class was held last Saturday at Lower Huron Metro Park.

With instruction provided by the Korean Tae Kwon Do Association, the Romulus class is again holding registration for the next teaching session to begin May 17 at the senior high school.

Interested individuals are requested to sign up by calling William Smith, Romulus community school director, at 941-1600 ext. 37.

Students promoted include Mike Earle, Thomas Bartley, Rhonda Bartley, Cecil Gaddy and Jack Jaraszewski, who all passed from 8th to 7th ranking in white belt classification.

Robert Cockrill was doubly promoted from 6th to 4th ranking brown belt, while the highest ranked Romulus student, John Stefanski, was promoted to the highest classification of brown belt, 2nd.

Class fees, according to Smith, are minimal when compared to some programs, averaging out to be less than an hour.

Instruction is provided by John Norsworthy, one of the association's finest black belt holders, who points out that self-defense and the discipline of physical exercise are stressed throughout the training sessions.

Man's body found floating in lake

The body of a Romulus man was found floating in Edison Lake in Belleville yesterday afternoon by a Belleville police officer.

Wayne County Sheriff's detectives identified the dead man as Forrest G. Orwig, 41, of 5971 Metro St. Orwig had been reported missing since last Wednesday, when he did not return home from work.

Detectives said Orwig's body was found in the water near the Denton Road bridge at about 3:15 p.m. Belleville Patrolman Richard Wall made the discovery and notified sheriff's deputies.

Investigating officers said Orwig's death was an apparent suicide, adding that the dead man's car and a note were found on the Denton Road bridge the same night he was reported missing.

Divers from the sheriff's marine division had been conducting a search for the body since last Thursday morning, but were unable to find anything in the 30-feet deep water under the bridge.

Michigan Week activities slated

Area residents planning upcoming activities for the observation of Michigan Week in the Belleville have been announced.

Persons assisting Mayor Royce E. Smith and Jon Hale, chairman of this year's Michian Week Program, are:

Richard Humphrey of the Van Buren Education Association; Theodore F. Kuckelman, executive director of the Belleville area Chamber of Commerce; Robert Tontalo, also of the Belleville Area Chamber of Commerce; Mrs. Barbara Boelter, publicity chairman.

Anthony Talaga, scoutmaster of Boy Scout Troop 793 at St. Anthony's Catholic Church of Belleville and Theodore Hooten of the Huron Valley Conservation Club.

The conservation club will clean up Fireworks Island, located just west of the Belleville Road bridge in Belleville Lake.

The Van Buren Education Association will sponsor a district-wide school fair, and the chamber has arranged for businessmen in the Belleville area to display arts and crafts projects from the various Van Buren Public Schools at their places of businesses.

Recall faces voters Tuesday in Sumpter

BY HENRY CANTIN

A recall election seeking the ouster of the seven-member Sumpter Township Board of Trustees will be before the township's electorate on May 16 when voters also will choose their preferences in the presidential primary election.

Facing removal from office are Elmer Parraghi, township supervisor, Mrs. Amanda Roberts, township treasurer, Clarence J. Hoffman Jr., township clerk, and the township's four trustees—James O. Brown, Richard Krajewski, Louis Banotai, and Virgil W. Humphreys.

The recall election is the result of two separate recall campaigns initiated by two citizens' groups in the township.

The seven township officials made unsuccessful court challenges to have the recall petitions dismissed.

The Wayne County Circuit Court in separate law suits held the recall petitions valid and ordered the election held.

The four trustees and clerk were accused of approving various board actions that allegedly caused widespread unrest in the township. The recall petitions against the supervisor and treasurer accused the two officials of "incompetency."

The officials were elected to office in the November, 1970 election for two-year terms. Brown and Humphreys were elected to serve four-year terms.

The township's four voting precincts will be open at 7 a.m. and all in line at the 8 p.m. closing time will be permitted to cast their ballots. Precincts one and three are located in the township hall at 23483 Sumpter Rd., and precincts two and four are located at the township fire hall at Sumpter and Hull roads.

Each week, the Belleville Enterprise and Romulus Roman will list a tally of local legislators' voting on major roll call issues in Lansing during the previous week.

The legislators include Sen. William Faust (Democrat-13th District) for the cities of Belleville and Romulus and townships of Huron and Van Buren; Sen. John E. McCauley (Democrat - 11th District) for Sumpter Township, and Rep. Edward E. Mahalak (Democrat - 38th District) for all of the above listed areas.

A synopsis of the measures will be used, followed by their disposition and local legislators' actions.

STATE SENATE
(Week of April 24-28)

Senate vote on Joint Resolution GG lifting the state's constitutional ban on graduated income tax. The amendment to the constitution would have placed the burden of school support on income taxes rather than property taxes as is currently the case. Defeated, 15-14 (two-thirds majority needed). Yea - McCauley. No vote - Faust.

STATE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
(Week of April 24-28)

House vote on House bill providing for exams in basic sciences or certain military service as a prerequisite to eligibility to practice medicine. Passed, 96-6. Yea - Mahalak.

House vote on Senate bill allowing females to participate in all non-contact interscholastic sports. Passed, 74-27. (Bill sent to Senate for concurrence on minor amendments). Yea - Mahalak.

"We the members of the township board refused to turn over absolute dictatorial powers to our supervisor, Elmer Parraghi, who, if the truth be known, is the real instigator of this entire recall campaign. Our supervisor brought this recall campaign against the other board members solely for his own political benefit and advantage in order to become the dictator of Sumpter Township.

"As long as we are members of the township board, we will resist the supervisor's efforts as well as those of other defeated former township officials. Their only goal is to divide Sumpter Township.

"We feel that we should resist as long as possible for the health and welfare of the citizens of Sumpter Township. We must plead guilty in doing this."

This statement was signed by the four trustees and clerk and it urged the voters to retain them in office.

As of edition time the supervisor and Mrs. Roberts have issued no statement.

HE HAS A DREAM — Belleville's Joe Louis Jones is shooting for the coveted heavyweight title of the world, but that's in the future. Right now the 19-year-old boxer, who recently captured the Michigan AAU heavyweight championship, would like to make the United States Olympics boxing team.

Belleville's Jones makes mark in ring

By TOM MOORADIAN
Daily Eagle Sports Editor

When your name is Joe Louis Jones, you just have to be a fighter.

And 19-year-old Joe Louis Jones of Belleville is that — a fighter. With big dreams.

"I want to become a member of the U.S. Olympic team," said Jones as he revealed one dream that could soon materialize. "And then use my Olympic experience to become the heavyweight champion of the world."

That dream is still in the future.

Jones, who weighs a muscular 200-pounds and stands 6 foot 3 inches, recently captured the Michigan AAU heavyweight title and headed for Las Vegas last week to fight for the national crown.

He lost a technical knockout in the first round to Leroy Jones of New York City.

"I was real nervous," explained Jones. "It was the first time I was in the nationals and Leroy is big. He's 250 pounds and 6-foot-5 and he not only got me but the title as well."

You would think that that would be the end of any dreams for national and world boxing glory. But Jones doesn't see it that way. He's only been in the game seriously for the past nine months.

In April he had two fights for the Michigan title and he came away relatively untouched, whipping Roger Piccinini of Warren in the state finals. He has fought seven bouts during his young career, winning six of them.

"In that bout at Vegas I tried to slug it out with my opponent early because I thought I'd have trouble going all the way," related Jones. "I need more experience and road-work."

Joe's trainer, Emmanuel Stuart has his protege working out at Detroit's Kronk Recreation Center five nights a week and the young boxer does most of his sparring and road work in Belleville.

Vegas was the first time Jones felt defeat. And he's working hard to make sure it's the last.

Is Joe Louis Jones a "ring name?"

"No, my mother was a great boxing fan and she just wanted her sons to be boxers too, so she named me after that great fighter."

Joe has an older brother who was the heavyweight champ in Ohio a few years back.

"I've always had boxing in back of my mind," added

Franklin star goes to Florida

One of the first five selections to the All-Area basketball team has made his collegiate choice.

Tim Dietz, Livonia Franklin's 6-8 center has signed a national letter of intent to attend the University of South Florida. Dietz has a "full ride" scholarship.

The scoringest player in Franklin's basketball history, Dietz led the Patriots to their first Northwest Suburban Conference championship. He averaged 22.5 points per game and 17 rebounds.

Tiger rally shocks Allen Park

Belleville makes title pitch

By TOM MOORADIAN
Sports Editor

If there were any questions whether Belleville was a title contender in the Suburban 8 Conference baseball circuit, then Coach Vitold Kaminski's Tigers dispelled them last week.

Belleville bounced back to win three crucial games after losing their first and only conference game to Trenton and has maneuvered into a two-way tie with Dearborn Edsel Ford.

A six-run outburst in the sixth that enabled Belleville to claim a 7-5 victory over Allen Park kept the tigers "alive" in the race. It looked "pretty bad" for the Belleville aggregation up to that sixth.

"It was a good one for us to win," said Coach Kaminski. "Whenever you're down 5-1 and come back to win, it's good."

Belleville played over five errors and was the first to put a run on the scoreboard when Steve Theodore was hit by a wild pitch in the third inning. Then he stole second and was sacrificed to third by Larry Farr. With one-away, Mike Kottke doubled home the run.

Enterprise-Roman Sports

Wednesday, May 10, 1972

However, Allen Park scored twice in the fourth to rout starting pitcher Theodore who gave way to Jerry Cole, the winning hurler. The Jaguars managed to tilt the scoreboard for two more runs in the fifth and added another in the sixth.

Then Belleville counter-attacked. With one-away, Vern Gowen, Mike Dansard, Kevin Barba and Ed Braman walked which caused the downfall of AP's starter, Dale Hurdick who was removed from Mike Maddock.

Tim Vance's groundout produced the second run in the inning, leaving the bases loaded for Mark Robson who also walked, forcing in a run. Farr was safe on an error which produced two more tallies and Jim McCoy put the icing on the victory when he pounded out a two-run single.

Belleville, which met Redford Union last night, takes on nonleague rival, Romulus today before returning to league action on Friday at home against Livonia Bentley.

On Saturday, Belleville also will compete in the Wyandotte Invitational.

Belleville and Romulus finally got together to play their postponed game and the Tigers managed to eke out a 2-1 victory over the Eagles. Belleville broke a five-inning scoreless deadlock in the top of the sixth when they scored all of their runs.

Dansard's single after Kevin Barba walked and moved to second on a fielder's choice accounted for the winning run.

Belleville put the tying run on the scoreboard in the second when Bara walked and was doubled home by Mark Robson.

The Eagles scored in the opening inning off Al Cicotte who walked Virgil Smith. Smith was sacrificed to second, advanced to third on a ground out and scored on a wild pitch.

Cicotte wasn't around at the end. He was removed in the fourth for Ed Braman who got credit for the victory. The pair gave up but two hits.

Sam Ruffolo, who went the distance for Romulus, was the losing pitcher.

Vern Gowen's 4-hitter enabled Belleville to jolt Edsel Ford 4-0 and moved Kaminski's Tigers back into the conference title race. Gowen, in control all the way, frustrated the T-Birds, striking out nine batters and walking but two.

He evened up his personal record to 2-2 won the season.

In their first league meeting ever, (the Dearborn high school was one of two that was accepted into the league when the Suburban Six expanded) Belleville broke a five-inning scoreless deadlock in the top of the sixth when they scored all of their runs.

Jim McCoy ignited the rally when he smacked a single. He moved to second when Mike Kottke also singled and with men on first and second, Gowen aided his own cause

Romulus trims Flyers

Describing it as the "best game of the season for us", Romulus coach Bill Cuhran on Friday finally saw his team play the way he feels they know how.

Behind the five-hit pitching of Bob Eves, Romulus trimmed former Twin Valley Conference rival, Willow Run, 8-5. It was Romulus' third victory against five losses of the campaign.

Romulus put two runs on the scoreboard in each of the first, third and seventh innings and tallied once in the second, while Willow Run's Flyers came up with three runs in the third, then added single runs in the fourth and fifth frames.

Manuel Delarosa collected two of the five Romulus hits and teammate Virgil Smith batted in two runs with his single. Bruce Strachan pounded a triple for the winners.

"We hit the ball well and played great in the field," said Cuhran whose team will run up against Belleville today in a rematch. Cuhran lauded the defensive game of third baseman Larry Hale and shortstop Virgil Smith who came up with a couple of spectacular catches.

'Seniors' seeking golfers

Six more golfers joined the ranks of the Senior Citizens Golf League this week.

But there's room for plenty of more players.

The league, opened to players 64-years-old and up, will play at the Fellows Creek Golf Course on Fridays at 8 a.m.

The league is seeking golfers from Wayne, Westland, Garden City, Livonia, Plymouth, Canton Center, Belleville, Romulus, Inkster and Taylor.

Further information may be obtained from Ken Barnhill who can be reached at 721-2842 or write him at 4358 Adams Circle, Wayne, Michigan 48184.

HEADING FOR REGIONALS - The best is yet to come on the high school track scene as Belleville along with a score of area prep teams will travel to Ypsilanti on Saturday to compete in the regional meet. Lonnie Clark, Belleville's outstanding distance runner, who is running second above, is among the top candidates to emerge from the regionals and qualify for the state in either the 2-mile or mile events.

Huron blasts Monroe; stretches streak to 6

Suddenly the pieces begin to fall into place for Coach Ron Smith and New Boston Huron's ball club.

The Chiefs rattled Monroe Catholic Central Friday night for their sixth straight victory and come within one victory of a .500 margin in the Huron Conference.

"Though our hitting hasn't reached the potential I know it is, our pitching and defense have stood up these past two weeks and that's what's making the difference," said Smith.

Jamie Hinojosa, who scattered five Monroe hits, struck out eight and walked four chalked up his second victory of the season. Monroe got one run off the junior hurler in the third inning, then he went on to gather goose eggs the rest of the way.

Meanwhile, Huron scored three runs in the bottom of the third on walks to Chuck Pearson, Larry Hartsuff, Art Sarkkinen, a throwing error and Mario Gracia's two-run single. The Chiefs scored three more in the sixth as Gracia singled and moved to second on Dana Kemp's base hit. Ron Thompson chased Gracia home when he singled and Tom Hinojosa helped his brothers' cause with a run-scoring base hit.

A groundout produced the final run in that inning.

Huron batters were in the groove also against Monroe Jefferson earlier in the week when the Chiefs claimed a 4-2 conference victory to stretch their winning streak to four games.

Ron Thompson spun a two-hitter in working the distance. It was his second triumph in fine starts. He held Jefferson hitless for 3 2-3 innings and lost his bid for a shutout in the sixth when the losers scored an unearned run.

Huron got on the scoreboard in the second inning on singles by Thompson, Larry Smith and Craig Delano. The Chiefs added two more runs in the fourth when the brothers Hinojosa - Tim and Jamie - each hammered out doubles.

Clark contributed the 2-mile with a 9:56 effort, beating Redford Union's Rick Kritzman who was clocked in 9:58.

Tigers are still in race

"Gowen is starting to come around," said Kaminski after the game. "He pitched a good game."

The victory padded the Tigers' record to 4-1 in the conference, while Edsel Ford, with a makeup game with Dearborn still pending is 3-1.

Monroe CC nips Huron

New Boston Huron will head into the stretch of the dual meet track season tomorrow as Tecumseh comes to town to help wind up the conference phase of the year.

On Saturday, Coach Keith Reed's Chiefs will compete at the state regionals at Southgate Schafer.

Meanwhile, the Huron aggregation dropped its second league meet of the campaign to Monroe Catholic Central, 74-49.

Reed saw the 880-yard relay as the turning point of the meet.

"Our 880-relay suffered its first loss and that sort of demoralized us," said Reed.

"We were trailing 28 after the field events and when we lost the relay the kids cracked."

It was Huron's first decisive loss of the season. Their previous setback was a one-point loss to Blissfield.

Dan Clark was a double winner for the Chiefs as he led teammate Ed Fuhkhoury to the finish line in the half-mile. Clark was clocked in 2:03.5, while Fuhkhoury registered a 2:03.8.

Then, Clark came back in the quarter-mile to cover the distance in 50.7 which is a tenth of a second off the school record.

The meet was highlighted by an outstanding performance in the 2-mile run where Catholic Central's two representatives, Van Slamberock and Bill Fox turned on the gas to beat Huron's Forestt Coop to the finish. Slamberock had a 10:14.6, while the second place finisher was over the line in 10:15.5.

Coop's 10:16.5 established a Huron record. He broke his previous mark of 10:22.

Huron's track machine continued to churn out victories at a record speed earlier last week as Coach Keith Reed's Chiefs dumped Flat Rock 72 1/2 to 50 1/2 in a conference meet.

It was the New Boston high school's seventh over-all victory in eight starts.

The Chiefs are now 4-2 in the Huron Conference.

Roger Miles came up with two of the eight first places for the winners against Flat Rock, sprinting to a pair of victory in the dashes. Miles broke the 10 seconds barrier for the 100-yard dash as he flashed across the finish line in 9.9. He then

Motor city cage clinic lures nation's elite

The top college and high school coaches, in the mid-west, will be featured speakers at the mid-west states college, junior college, high school, and junior high school Basketball Coaches National Motor City Basketball Clinic to be held at the Sheraton-Cadillac Hotel on June 2 and 3rd.

Four of the nations top college coaches, Al McGuire, Marquette University, Bill Musselman, University of Minnesota, Danny Crum, University of Louisville and James Dutcher, will appear on the program.

Four high school state prep champions will also convey their winning secrets. Coach Ron Ferguson, Illinois Thornridge Prep Champion for the past two years, with a fabulous 64-1, two year record, also Coach Myron Dickerson, Connorsville High School, Indiana Prep Champion, will join Michigan's state high school champions Bill Frieder of Flint Northern and perennial Michigan Class B champion, River Rouge, Lofton Green on the clinic staff. Tom Villamure, top suburban coach of Birmingham Seaholm High School and Bill Thibodeau, University of Detroit High School Catholic League Champions, will participate. Bill Musselman, the controversial Head Coach of the University of Minnesota led his team to a Big Ten Title and a N.C.A.A. play-off spot.

Denny Crum, former assistant to U.C.L.A. Johnny Woodan, led his Louisville Team to a Missouri Valley Championship and a berth in the N.C.A.A. Tournament.

Al McGuire's nationally rated Marquette University team, the hottest of the independent college teams, also contested in the N.C.A.A. play-offs.

Jim Dutcher led his Eastern Michigan team to the semi-finals of the N.C.A.A. college division this past season.

Jones feels that his major assets, along with that strong body, are a solid left hook and "fast footwork."

"I feel that I'm one of the fastest heavyweights around," said Jones, whose boxing idols are Joe Louis (who else?), the former heavyweight champion of the world and Muhammed Ali, nee Cassius Clay.

"Louis had punching power and Ali's footwork is something else," continued Jones, "I just wish I could be as good as they were."

Jones, is presently residing with his sister and brother-in-law, Lowell Gorton.

Last summer, Jones and his brother-in-law were kept busy coaching a little league baseball team in Belleville.

"I like to encourage kids who are out fighting on the streets to do it in the ring," said Jones. "That is where all fights belong."

We'll buy that - and even if we didn't, who's going to argue with a guy who has his eyes on the world's heavyweight boxing crown?

Huron Valley scouts' cookie sale is success

The Huron Valley Girl Scouts are winding up their annual cookie sale and declaring this year a big financial success. They sold 376,836 boxes of cookies, well over their goal of 375,000 boxes.

The council's share of the profit will total nearly $70,000 and will be used primarily for expenses connected with the Girl Scout camping program which are not covered by United Fund allocations. These include the cost of year-round camp site director at Camp Linden, camperships for needy Girl Scouts, maintenance and building operations at Camp Linden and the purchase of camp equipment.

The remainder of the profit, nearly 19,000, will be divided among the individual troops at a rate of 5 cents per box sold. The troops will use their profits to take trips, purchase troop equipment and finance service projects.

Girl Scout cookie sales are big business nation-wide, according to Mrs. Jack Hagopian of Plymouth, chairman of this year's cookie sale.

Throughout the United States more than 300 Girl Scout councils participate in sales for a combined profit of more than $20 million dollars.

The national Girl Scout organization franchises various commercial bakeries to make cookies available. The local council then decides the brand of cookies they will sell and determine the price they will sell at.

In this area, some councils sold a larger family-size box at $1 and some sold the traditional size at 50 cents and at 60 cents. The Huron Valley Council selected Burry Biscuit Co. cookies and sold them for 50 cents.

"I don't know how much longer the traditional size boxes of cookies will be available," said Mrs. Hagopian. "Only 13 Girl Scout councils in the whole country still are handling that size box of Burry's cookies, while 168 councils have gone to the larger family-size box that sells for $1. Production costs may make the price of the traditional size box too expensive for Burry's to handle."

Huron Valley Council cookies sales by towns are as follows: Howell, 16,500 boxes; Ypsilanti, 45,600 boxes; Milan and Lincoln, 14,000 boxes; Brighton, 18,600 boxes; Pinckney, 9,100 boxes; Plymouth and Northville, 39,200 boxes; Westland and Wayne, 44,000 boxes; Belleville, 14,200 boxes; Romulus, 12,100 boxes; New Boston, 5,500 boxes; Flat Rock, 8,300 boxes; Saline, 13,100 boxes; Chelsea, 8,700 boxes; Ann Arbor and Whitmore Lake, 109,900 boxes; Dexter, 11,700 boxes; and Manchester, 4,800 boxes.

Local HCMA parks offer nature trails

William F. Hopkins, chief naturalist for the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority, reported the following attractions are expected at the nature trails and nature sites area parks in May.

At Lower Huron Metropolitan Park near Belleville, located a bit farther south than other HCMA parks, the blossoming season comes a few days earlier.

Both the Paw Paw and Bob White nature trails are lined with bright spring flowers, but the Bob White Trail has greater variety — including trillium, wild blue phlox, wild geranium and golden ragwort.

The most spectacular floral display at Lower Huron Park is provided by the large masses of pink-flowered redbud trees, with the peak bloom usually occurring about May 10-14.

Downriver clinic holds sale to help raise funds

The Downriver Guidance Clinic is having a flea market sale on May 20 from 8 a.m. until 4 p.m. at the clinic, located at 26300 Outer Dr. in Lincoln Park.

Anyone having items to contribute to help raise money to carry on the clinic's program of helping disturbed children and adults, should call the Huron School District

Board of Education office, 753-4421, or Art Palmer at the Huron Junior High, 782-2483.

The clinic depends largely on community support for funds to carry on a varied program of services to the whole downriver area.

Its program is extended into Seaway Hospital as a means of better serving this area. It provides treatment for children and adults with personal and emotional difficulties through a regular program of counseling and consultation.

A drug withdrawal and counseling program is also available. The crisis service provides 24-hour telephone service through the Seaway Hospital at 383-9000.

The clinic is attempting to extend its services even further to better serve our area and it needs our help to do this. Please give whatever you can toward the flea market sale by calling or bringing your items to Huron Junior High school in New Boston.

Volunteers are also needed to help with the sale itself.

Farm inspection service under way

Set-aside inspection and measurement service is well under way in Michigan, with a total of approximately 10,000 farm visits now booked, according to William Vanderbeek, member of the Michigan State ASC Committee.

However, he said any farm program participant still can get inspection and measurement service for his crop and set-aside acres before the certification deadline by putting in a request at the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) Office.

This year the ASCS measurement service, which is provided at cost, also includes inspection of set-aside acreage at the time of measurement to determine if it is of acceptable quality to earn full set-aside payments.

Acreage set aside under the feed grain and wheat programs must be of average productivity and similar to the acreage on which the program crops are grown in order for full payments to be earned.

Emphasis now is on measurement of set-aside acreage and of that feed grain

Methodist choirs perform in Chelsea

Several car loads of members of the Cherub, Junior, and Junior High Choirs of the First United Methodist Church journeyed to Chelsea on Sunday, April 30, where they gave a concert in the chapel of the Methodist Home. Accompanists for the groups were Beverly Freysinger and Linda Amerman, who also played the Prelude, Beverly at the piano and Linda with the flute.

Following the various numbers a special request was made for the four year old twins, Shawn and Shari Ferguson, children of Roger and Dianne, to sing, "Jesus Loves Me."

After the concert, groups were given a tour through the home and a chance to visit with several of the residents, among them Mrs. Imogene Cole, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Buege.

The children also took May baskets which were distributed later among the residents.

Mrs. Russell (Rachel) Wilson of Elwell Rd. is director of the Choirs.

MR. AND MRS. DON IHLENFELDT, JR.

By Ihlenfeldts

Virgin Islands site chosen for honeymoon

St. John's Church on Lafayette Square, Washington, D.C. was reserved April 15 for the double ring ceremony which united Julia Ann Adams and Don Ihlenfeldt, Jr. in holy matrimony.

Some 80 friends and relatives were gathered for the one o'clock rite conducted by the Rev. John Harper. Russell Albert was at the organ to provide musical selections for the nuptials.

Parents of the young couple are Mrs. Lethcoe Adams of Falls Church, Virginia and Mr. and Mrs. Don Ihlenfeldt of 42195 Expressway, Belleville.

THE BRIDE'S brother-in-law, Lieutenant Colonel B.J. Dromsky, Jr. escorted her to the altar. For her wedding day, she selected a toe-touching creation of bridal sheer with bands of lace applique forming the high, stand-up collar and outlining the oval illusion neckline. The lace motif was also used above the elbows on the wide-cuffed bishop sleeves, down the front of the skirt and again on the circular chapel sweep.

Fresh daisies and baby's breath formed the headpiece which secured her mid-back illusion veil and a bouquet of daisies, mini-carnations, baby's breath, and ivy completed her bridal finery.

As her sister's honor attendant, Jodie Lee Adams donned a wide-brimmed sheer beige hat and a long frock fashioned from lavender floral print on a white background. The nosegay she carried was comprised of daisies, white and yellow mini-carnations and baby's breath.

Bridesmaids in matching costumes were Pam Baldwin of Arlington, Virginia and the bridegroom's sister, Gayle Ihlenfeldt of Belleville.

JAMES SNOW of Belleville carried out the duties of best man with Paul Ihlenfeldt, the bridegroom's brother, and Robert Rettray of Birmingham as ushers.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Adams appeared in an A-line lavender dress with braided trim. Mrs. Ihlenfeldt, the bridegroom's mother, chose a mint green sheath frosted with beading. Both were presented with orchid corsages.

Following their reception at the Golden Ox in Washington, D.C., the newlyweds departed for a week-long honeymoon at the Buccaneer Hotel on St. Croix in the Virgin Islands. For traveling, the new Mrs. Ihlenfeldt changed to a purple and white polka dot shirt-waist dress with harmonizing accessories.

Prior to the wedding, the senior Don Ihlenfeldt played host at the rehearsal dinner held at Evan's Farm Inn at McLean, Virginia.

The newlyweds, who hope to make their home in this community, are temporarily residing at 42195 Expressway, Belleville, until their plans are complete.

The bride was graduated from Flint Hill Prep School in Fairfax, Virginia in 1969 and spent two years at Howard County Junior College in Big Spring, Texas. Prior to her marriage she was employed at the Fairfax County Police Department.

Her husband, a 1964 alumnus of Belleville High School, graduated in 1968 from Western Michigan University where he affiliated with Delta Sigma Pi, business professional fraternity. He served as a first lieutenant with the U.S. Army Artillery for two years and was wounded during service in Vietnam. Before the wedding, he was employed as manager of the Golden Ox Steak House in the nation's capitol.

Hayti brownies make May baskets

Members of Brownie Troop 664 of the Romulus Hayti Elementary School area recently got ready for spring by making May baskets to give to someone they admire on May Day.

Mrs. Mary Bozelak, troop leader, had explained the significance of the ancient custom and assisted the girls in making the offerings. Other spring activities have included stuffing cloth animals for their sponsoring group, the Hayti PTA, for sale at a spring fair. Mrs. Caroline Nagy and Mrs. Kay Brown helped the girls with the project. The items had been sewn by Mrs. Margaret Maitland and Mrs. Nagy.

Mrs. Jane Vernatter and Mrs. Nagy planned and supervised an Easter meeting where baskets and eggs were prepared and the meeting topped off with a party featuring a giant Easter Bunny cake baked by Mrs. Bozelak.

Amy Vanderbilt's etiquette

Help dieters cope when dining out

By AMY VANDERBILT

"Dear Miss Vanderbilt: In a recent column you discussed food for guests who are dieting. Having among my friends and relatives a number of diabetics, I understand their problem while dining out when they are confronted with nothing but dishes full of carbohydrates and fats, the food values of which they cannot determine. For this reason, when I have guests whose dietary habits I don't know, I never fail to provide a platter of low-carbohydrate vegetables such as sliced tomatoes, cucumbers, green pepper strips, carrot sticks, asparagus spears, radishes, cauliflower flowerets, celery and a bowl of mayonnaise for those who may eat it. It can make a very pretty addition to a buffet table.

"Would you please say something about the serving of presweetened iced tea? It is most unpleasant for those who do not care for sugar in their tea and an impossibility for diabetics. Mrs. F.W."

You are right about the presweetened iced tea. Many people who are not diabetics dislike it or prefer to use their own artificial sweeteners. Certainly, if the hostess knows her guest is a diabetic or on a low-carbohydrate diet, she should make it clear that the tea is presweetened and offer to supply unsweetened tea to those who prefer it or merely see that those who don't want the tea sweetened, get what they want without any comment.

Perhaps other diabetics will send me some attractive recipes, preferably the kind that all guests at a party can eat with pleasure.

"Dear Miss Vanderbilt: When do you pick up your dinner napkin? Is there a difference if you are a woman dining with a man in a restaurant rather than as a guest in somebody's home? What if you are having a few cocktails before dinner at a restaurant table, do you wait to pick up the napkin at the time the food is served? — Mrs. S.M."

When you are a guest in a home where there is a hostess, wait to pick up your napkin until the hostess has picked up hers. If, however, the dinner party is a large one with guests perhaps scattered around the room, you don't wait for this signal but pick up your napkin when you sit down at the table. The same is true when the hostess does not seat herself with you but instead is busy serving or perhaps supervising at the buffet table. You are expected to eat as soon as two or three people have been served, rather than let the food grow cold and your hostess should urge you to do so. Of course, if there are only, say, four to six people at the dinner table and the hostess is at her place, she does give the signal by picking up her napkin. In some cases grace is said first and the hostess by not picking up her napkin when she sits down indicates this. This is a useful thing to know as you should not be talking when grace is about to be said.

When you are dining with a man in a restaurant, you are in effect the "hostess" so far as the napkin is concerned. Pick it up when you sit down. At dinner, place it over your knees in your lap, not completely unfolded (at luncheon or breakfast, the smaller napkin is unfolded completely). Usually a couple dining together in this way in a restaurant don't worry at all about who picks up the napkin first, although a very "correct" man would wait until his woman guest picks up hers.

MOTHER IS THE LADY who was always there when something wonderful happened, she was there to stand up and cheer. When it didn't go so well, she was around, arms out, heart wide open. And Sunday is that "Someday" you were going to show her how much it all meant. It's the day you pay homage, do honor, pay tribute with love. It's the day you bring this Lady something very, very particular, from someplace very, very special. Like MINERVA'S DUNNINGS, at 500 Forest, in Plymouth. There is NO such thing as "just" a Gift, there...just as there is no such thing as "just" any Gift for your Mother. Each and every thing in this wonderful place is calculated to bring Mom happiness! NATIONAL UNCLAIMED FURNITURE SHOWROOMS 2985 Ford Rd., Garden City (as well as 126 E. 14 Mi., 31795 Groesbeck (M-97), 1530 Pinegrove, Port Huron) and something NEW has been added to gladden Mothers' Hearts...and Dads' pocketbooks!! IF YOURS IS A "One of a kind" Mom, if there's no one else quite as wonderful...then you may want to consider the "One of a kind" Gift for this weekend's giving. Visit ANDERSON CRAFTS, at 420 Starkweather, in Plymouth, for the strictly individual Gifts already completed and awaiting your selection. For instance: Burmese Candlesticks! (Try them to highlight a Centerpiece) or how about a Ceramic piece? Mom will never see another just like it! A pearly circa-1800 Lady's "Shoe" is filled with flowers, vines trailing prettily down behind the heel. A Showpiece Beer "Stein" picks up the colors in her Dining Room...and becomes the center of attention. ("THIS one was for Mother's Day, 1972", she'll say for years to come.) Does your Mother like Jewelry? From the "far out" to the traditional...from the wild, bulky Costume Ring that looks so extravagant you could've paid a fortune for it, to ropes of brilliant beads; tiny ornaments. So many things to choose from...and many you can still make yourself, in time for Mother's Day! If this is your year to give something different...shop at Anderson Crafts!

MASTER BAKER GINO AGOSTA is a Gentleman who deals with Moms all year long...because he knows what they like to take home to their Families, and how one great big cookie can say "I love you" to a small child. So he knows, too, how you can say it back...now that it's your turn to do something nice for the Lady whose life revolves around you...and who would be very thrilled and happy if you did something as thoughtful as picking up a special Coffee Treat Cake on the way over and just sitting around the kitchen table...talking about years gone by...and enjoying something sweet and good. Or if this is YOUR day to honor Mother...if you're doing the cooking...and if this meal is really going to be something out of the ordinary, you'll visit GINO'S BAKERY, 31517 Plymouth Rd., just west of Merriman in Livonia, for your Dinner Rolls, special Breads, Desserts Pastries...and all the other baked things that will make the day memorable! People who remember Mother "always remember Gino's Bakery."

SHE'LL FLIP HER WIG for that Mother's Day Wiglet...or Fall...or Cascade...or a hundred other "Switches" on Instant Glamour from CARL'S CORNER, at the corner of Plymouth & Telegraph! And Carl's Corner will be open daily from 10 till 9, and Sunday, Mothers' Day, from noon till 6 p.m., so you can make your selection. Use your MasterCard or BankAmericard if you wish, for the Gift that makes pretty Mothers absolutely beautiful! If it's her 1st Wig...you'll think you've given her a new lease on life, she'll look and feel so different! If she has enough changes of hairstyles and colors...see some very beautiful dresses, many Sample and Designer Styles, at a very low price. OR, surprise the really Mod Mother with Carl's new Pant Styles. The variety of Pants is endless. Flares, Velours, Brocades, Denims, Colors, Buttons, Big Zips, and on and on!!! If she goes for the "in" thing...you'll be right on with a Gift from Carl's Corner. Just about where Livonia meets Redford...is where you're sure to meet a GREAT selection of Gifts!

IF WE'VE SAVED the Best for the last...it's because the very best of everything begins and ends at CARDS 'N' THINGS, in the Wonderland Shopping Center (just past Farmer Jack's & Across the walk from Montgomery-Wards.) It wouldn't be Mothers' Day if you didn't wrap her Gift in the fabulous Papers and Gift Ornaments they have there, especially for this day! And gifty "little" things, the kind you wouldn't have thought of, but Mom really needs, abound in the place where beauty and happiness are first and foremost! Precious "Hummel" Music Boxes not only guard her Jewels...but play such beautiful songs as the theme from "Love Story" and "Lara's Theme"! A Delft China Pitcher & Bowl are hard to find...and wonderful to give. Cards 'N' Things, of course, has them in stock! Ceramic Figurines for Mother's Curio Cabinet...and "extra touches" like the Ash Tray-Matchbox Sets or the things she'll see every day, like pretty Wall Plaques, to remind her that you care. And there are the things for another loved one on Mothers' Day: Cards that say "To My Aunt... Friend... Sister..." For them: very Feminine Address Books...elegant Scented Stationery...beautiful perfumed Candles in Flowered Holders (choose your own color and scent combinations)...Recipe Boxes complete with Files. That extra Gift you want so much to add...you'll find it at Cards 'N' Things! See what we mean? This place is "The Living End"!

During Mailbox Improvement Week

Mailboxes need help

The U. S. Postal Service has designated the week of May 15-20 as Mailbox Improvement Week this year.

Postmaster R.J. O'Neil of Belleville, George Austin of Romulus and Donald L. England of New Boston jointly have announced that a week is set aside every year as a time to encourage rural and mounted city delivery patrons to improve the appearance of their mailboxes and to replace old and damaged boxes with ones designed to protect the mail from the weather.

Mailboxes, they said, should be neat in appearance, conveniently located and safe to use.

On rural routes, mail boxes of approved traditional or contemporary design are required. Postal customers still using the old-style top-opening boxes may continue to use them at their present location provided they are kept in good condition and afford adequate protection for the mail.

Unserviceable boxes, or those which expose mail to the weather, should be replaced. Boxes and supports should be kept painted and free of rust.

On city delivery motorized routes, the mailboxes may be either the approved traditional rural-type, the approved suburban box of contemporary design, or any mail receptacle which is conveniently located at the curb, safe for the carrier to use and affords protection for mail against the weather.

The use of house numbers and street and road names has been authorized in this area for rural routes. House numbers must be shown on the side of the box visible to the carrier as he approaches, or on the door where boxes are grouped side by side.

On both city mounted and rural routes, the street or road name as well as the house number must be shown if the box is not located directly in front of the owner's residence. The placing of the owner's name on the box is optional.

The height of boxes depends upon the type of vehicle used by the carrier. On rural routes, mailbox posts should be of such height that the box can be served easily from the right hand window of a passenger car. A good height for rural box supports is approximately 42 inches from the ground to the bottom of the box.

On city mounted routes, the supports should be higher, since these boxes are served by right hand drive government mail trucks. About 48 to 50 inches from the ground to the bottom of the mailbox is a good height.

Mailboxes must be located on the right side of the road in the direction of travel of the carriers. It is both dangerous for the carrier to drive on the left side of the road and in violation of Michigan State law.

Properly erected and maintained mailboxes contribute to efficient and speedy delivery of the mails. They are a credit to the postal customer and to the U. S. Postal Service. City delivery and rural carries appreciate mailboxes which are well located and safe and convenient to serve from their vehicles.

Neat, attractive mailboxes make a significant contribution to the appearance of the countryside and the streets in suburban areas.

Gary Marchel, Rick Hadyniak and Mark Allen. Auto mechanics is becoming a popular class at the high school, with both day and evening classes being conducted. Two current evening classes have about 30 women studying various phases of car operation and maintenance.

State police inspect autos

"It's bigger and better and it's going to affect more drivers in Michigan than ever before" - with these words, Col. John R. Plants, state police director, reported resumption of the vehicle-driver inspection program for this year.

Plants indicated that by May 1 there should be 26 law enforcement agencies throughout the state operating about 46 check lane teams on city, county and state roads.

He said there were 321,600 vehicles inspected in 1971, of which 225,892 failed to pass. He added that 67,314 drivers were cited either for serious defects on their vehicles or for driving credential reasons.

Plants suggested drivers pay particular attention to windshield wipers, license plate lights and tire tread depth. These items were cited most frequently as defects in 1971 inspections.

He also suggested any motorist desiring to have his vehicle inspected may obtain the location of check lane teams by calling the nearest State Police post or his local police department if it is participating in the inspection operation.

Dance classes conducted

Weekly modern dance classes are being conducted at the North Junior High School gymnasium under the supervision of Mrs. Maxine Jo Haase of Belleville. The school is located at 47097 McBride St.

The free classes which started Tuesday night, will be held on Tuesdays through June 6 from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. and from 9 to 10 p.m.

Mrs. Haase, who has attended the Bach Conservatory of Music in Toledo and performed with the International Institute in Toledo, has extended an invitation to all girls 18 years and older to "come and shape up for spring."

Romulus youth promotes high school medical seminar

A medical seminar was announced for Saturday, May 13, at Henry Ford Hospital in Detroit that will feature leading Detroit area physician.

According to John Gregory Roundtree, son of Mr. and Mrs. John G. Roundtree of 33950 Ecorse Road, Romulus, the seminar will be the first of what he hopes to be a series of annual events to inform high school students about careers in the field of medicine.

Greg, a 10th grader at Detroit's Mumford High School, is the founder and president of the Metropolitan Detroit Medical Seminar Committee, which has coordinated the five-hour meeting. Assisting in the event is the Explorer Post 89 of the Boy Scouts of America, to which Greg is associate advisor.

Those interested in attending the meeting, which begins at noon, may contact the Metropolitan Detroit Medical Seminar Committee, High School Division, at 17524 Wyoming Ave., Detroit.

According to Greg, there will be no charge for the seminar, however donations will be accepted to further the medical careers exploration program.

Among those who have helped in setting up the seminar, Greg says, are the City of Detroit, Dr. David V. Bowen, Dr. Steven Gurdjain, Dr. Eberhard F. Mammen, Dr. James M. Orten, Mr. and Mrs. James Beale, Dr. Nicholas J. Mizeres, Dr. Carole Boyd, Dr. Kenneth Krabbenhoft, Dr. Charles C. Vincent and Sr. Stephen J. Phillips.

Are you afraid to buy a new house?

Well, relax, you are not alone. Almost everyone who buys a new house has doubts.

And if you're like most people, it has to do with financing. Not knowing what to expect when it comes to mortgages and closing costs.

At NBD, we finance more homes for more people than any other bank in town. And part of the reason, we think, is that we take the mystery out of buying and financing a home.

In most cases, we can let you know about your mortgage within 10 days of application, so you don't spend weeks waiting to find out whether or not you can buy your new home.

We'll also give you a good idea of how much your total closing costs will be. So that you don't walk into any unexpected surprises when you walk in to close on your new home.

And just about everything we know, we've put into a booklet designed to answer any question you might have on buying and financing your new home.

Why not pick up your free copy.

Security Bank to issue holding company stock soon

Douglas A. Hayes, chairman, and Lowell L. Peacock, president of Security Bank and Trust Co., announced that, effective May 1, the institution was legally declared Southwestern

Michigan Holding Co. As a result, the holding company stock will be issued in the near future. It also was reported arrangements are being made to have First of Michigan Corporation serve as broker to facilitate trading in the holding company stock.

Peacock said that as of May 1, 97.7 per cent of Security Bank and Trust stock was exchanged for holding company stock. The exchange deadline was extended to May 16, and the remaining shareholders are being encouraged to consider converting their stock.

Security originally announced the decision to form the holding company last September. The announcement followed the completion of changes in a Michigan law that previously had barred one-bank holding companies.

The bank received approval to form a holding company from the regulatory authorities in March, and on March 7 announced the exchange offer to the holders of common stock of Security Bank and Trust Company.

In discussing the holding company, Peacock said: "It will enable us to expand into profitable areas of financial services that are closely related to our present capabilities, but are not now available to us."

Security Bank and Trust will operate as a subsidiary of the holding company. Security is a state chartered commercial bank which operates 22 branches in southeastern Michigan.

Beware free vacations for two

A "free vacation for two" may be misleading and deceptive, or possibly involve land promotions.

Investigations by the Michigan Consumers Council show that several promotions operating in the state offer room accommodations "absolutely free -- 100 per cent paid for -- strictly first-class."

To take advantage of this prize, the consumer must pay a service fee ranging from $12.95 to $20. In addition, he must pay for all transportation to and from the resort and sometimes dining costs during his stay.

The Thunderbird hotel in Las Vegas appears on one such vacation certificate. However, hotel attorneys advise the Consumers Council the hotel "is not a party to any agreement with Midwest Promotions to supply rooms and meal and entertainment coupons for people who are contacted by Midwest Promotions on behalf of Vista Color of Hollywood, Inc. Any use of the Thunderbird Hotel's name is without authorization." This material has been referred to the attorney general's office.

Seasons of Fort Lauderdale, a Florida resort advertised in another vacation offer from Continental Travel, says it does honor the certificates. The reservations manager, however, advises the council the travel company's main business is in land sales promotion.

Six Masons honored

A class of nearly 400 Masons from 11 counties of southeastern Michigan, which make up the Detroit jurisdiction of Scottish Rite, received the 32nd degree in Scottish Rite Freemasonry at ceremonies held at the Masonic Temple in Detroit on April 29.

Among the class were six Romulus residents — Ray Cantrell, Raymond F. Messer, Carl E. Monarch, Robert J. Perac, E. Darrell Pratt and John J. White.

The principal benevolence of Scottish Rite is its research program into the cause and cure of schizophrenia, a form of mental illness. Scottish Rite members have voluntarily contributed millions of dollars to universities, colleges and clinics since the program was started 38 years ago.

Speaker on the final day of the four-day reunion April 29 was the newly elected president of Wayne State University, George E. Gullen Jr. He is a 33rd degree Mason and a past commander-in-chief of the Detroit Consistory.

Speaking before 1,500 Masons at the traditional 32nd degree banquet in the Fountain Ballroom, President Gullen gave an inspiring talk on Masonry and its applications to modern day life.

Detroit's presiding officers are Robert L. Muirhead, John F. Langs, Eugene D. Avram and Theodore Malinowski.

TROOPER CITED — State Police Trooper Barry F. Beck of the Ypsilanti Post of the Michigan State Police was among 11 State Police officers cited for outstanding services in cases recently reviewed by the department's board of awards at Lansing, Col. John R. Plants, director, reported.

Beck was involved in a patrol stop of a car last December in the Ypsilanti area.

Identification checks and a vehicle search led to the arrest of the three occupants and an arrest later of a fourth person. This solved a series of burglaries and resulted in the recovery of about $20,000 in stolen property and money.

Huron adults get diplomas

A total of 106 students have graduated from Huron High School Adult Education program this year.

For most of these students their graduation was a dream come true, said Roger Brenner, community school director. The graduates were both young and old alike and from every social background. Some had not been in school for many years.

However, these graduates had one thing in common, from the beginning of their studies, their goal was to obtain a high school diploma. Several of the graduates will be going on to college study. Others have made some monetary advancement in their jobs, Brenner reported.

An extension course was set up at the Union Local 387 in Flat Rock, where 30 union members studied. Classes are held weekly, Monday through Thursday mornings and evenings.

The Adult Education classes will resume next September.

The classes are free to anyone wishing to attend.

Registration can be made by calling Benner or Chris Fields at 782-3357 from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday through the summer months.

This funny world

Aries (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Rules and regulations should be followed to the letter now and temper controlled, or you get into real trouble. Not the right day to contact that influential person, whatever your reason. Await a better day.

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20) If you try to get out of promises you have made to others, you can certainly get into a peck of trouble so be sure you show you are conscientious instead. Others are in a bad mood, therefore do not look for praise today. Tomorrow all changes.

Gemini (May 21 to June 21) You waver between handling important affairs and going out for fun, so if you plan your time wisely, you can do some of both. Make sure you do not bring enemies together, or your day will be ruined. Dress well.

Moon Children (June 22 to July 21) If you follow through with what bigwigs expect of you, you make big headway today, even though you do not understand their motives. They require a loyal worker now. Save some time for mate in p.m.

Leo (July 22 to Aug. 21) With those good ideas buzzing through your head, you hardly know which to work on first, but if you sift the wheat from the chaff, all is fine. Make sure you have the facts and information you need for success with them.

Virgo (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Get right at the responsibilities ahead of you and carry through efficiently so higher-ups will be pleased and extend right benefits. Fighting with loved one could lead to separation you do not want. Cool it.

Libra (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) You have an associate who wants to fly off into outlets that he knows almost nothing about, so apply a little pressure and save the present good partnership. Use tact, good sense, not arguments. Take it easy tonight.

Scorpio (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Tackle all that work in a most persevering and clever fashion and get it behind you quickly. A little time spent at exercise, etc., can improve your health immensely. Don't get discouraged.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) If you are extravagant where fun and pleasure are concerned, you find they soon lose their flavor. Being particularly devoted to closest tie pays off in big dividends now. Much happiness for both.

Capricorn (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You have to use tact and diplomacy at home if you want to avoid a big argument possible today, or tonight. Get more order around you and please all. A short trip can now be planned carefully.

Aquarius (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Show others you can control temper regardless of what may or may not come up to test you. One who should be concerned only with your work is trying to hem you in. Cleverly avoid him or her.

Pisces (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) If you spend too much for the pleasure you want, you find it backfires on you, so keep sane, safe. Listen to what a clever person in business has to suggest for your advancement. Think.

If your child is born today he or she will be one of those fascinating young people who comprehends the problems of others, but finds it difficult to know what to do about his or her own, so teach early to handle own life wisely before attempting to aid others. Then the life becomes successful and humanitarian traits can be developed to best advantage. The pioneer is definitely in this chart, so send to modern schools for best results throughout the lifetime.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to you!

Fly-by-night gimmicks should be recognized

By ANDY LANG

You are being continually warned about the sharp practices of a small minority of home repair and remodeling contractors. I have often sounded the trumpet myself.

There's no doubt that thousands of home owners are fleeced every year by fly-by-night operators. But sometimes I wonder. Would all of these frauds be taking place if many of the victims weren't themselves trying to get something for nothing in the first place?

What is it that makes some persons believe such ridiculous sales pitches that they must have figured out that the individual or company was in business solely for the purpose of losing money?

Take the gimmick of the two men in a truck who say they have been working in the neighborhood and have some blacktop left which they don't want to take back to their shop and which they can use to repave your driveway for an astonishingly low price.

Why do those who fall for this nonsense express such indignation when the blacktop proves to be a useless material that won't stand up under auto traffic?

Have they really forgotten that they recently got an estimate for the same job from a local contractor and that it was five times as much as the price quoted by the sharpies?

Why do they take the word of two strangers in preference to that of a man who has been in business in their neighborhood for 15 years?

In these days of high labor and material costs, it is only natural that all of us are looking for bargains. But there's a big difference between a bargain and a price so much cheaper than average that it should immediately generate suspicion!

Estimates by contractors for the same project may differ, but if one is far, far lower than the other, better check into exactly what you're getting. One may be giving you plywood that retails at $4 for a 4 feet by 8 feet panel, the other plywood with a price tag of $8 a panel. You may feel that the $4 panel will do very nicely. And you may not care too much about the skill of the workmen involved because you want the job done at the cheapest possible price. But make your decision out of knowledge and not indifference or ignorance—or because you think someone you never saw before has decided to lose money on the job simply to do you a favor.

The one sure thing is that unless the honest businessman makes a reasonable profit, he won't have a business.

(The solutions to 35 common household problems are given in Andy Lang's helpful handbook, "Practical Home Repairs," available by sending $1 to this newspaper in care of Box 5, Teaneck, N.J. 07666.)

On home improvements

Here's the answer

By ANDY LANG

Q.—In reading some instructions about putting on a stucco finish, I came across the term "scratch" coat. What does it mean?

A.—The first coat is called the scratch coat simply because it usually is scratched with a piece of wire mesh, nail or special tool. By creating these irregular indentations in the surface, the worker is providing a suitable gripping base for the second coat.

Q.—We have a large four-car garage that takes care of the four families in our small apartment building. I usually have most of the repairs done, but thought I might tackle this problem myself. There's a small leak in the garage roof, which is almost flat and is covered with heavy roofing felt. The water comes through only at one point and it's just a tiny drip, but I want to fix it before it gets worse. I went up on the roof and notice that, in the area where the leak is, the felt is cracked. Can I fix the leak without doing over the entire roof?

A.—Probably. Try it and see. But if the roofing material is very old, it may be that other leaks will occur in other places as time goes on, in which case new felt will have to be installed. To make a patch, cut back from the cracked portion to remove all loose roofing that has lifted away from the protective layers below it. Spread roofing cement over the area. Cut a piece of new roofing felt large enough to cover the damaged portion plus a 3-inch overlap on all sides. Press it into the cement, flattening it out as much as possible but being careful not to break it. Spread more cement over the edges of the patch. The job is done. But some roofers feel that the patch gets better initial protection if it is then covered with a little dry sand. In making this repair, walk and move around as though you were stepping on eggs and didn't want to break them. Too often, a successful patch is made, only to have the workman split some other section of the roofing felt and cause a new leak.

Q.—I have heard that copper eventually turns green when exposed to the elements. A copper ornament on the outside of my house has turned black. Why not green? A.—Copper usually will turn black before it turns green. Wait a while.

A GIFT THAT WILL GIVE JOY FOR YEARS.

Living plants, from a small dish garden to this beautiful split-leaf philodendron, are perfect gifts that will bring freshness and beauty for many years.

IMPROVE YOUR HOME

It's Home Improvements Month

Ceramic tile--dream material

May is National Home Improvement Month and it is aptly named since this is the time of the year most home remodeling takes place. Although most home improvement projects are handled by specific contractors, a surprising number are done by the home owner himself.

Whether you decide to undertake a project on your own, or have a professional do the job, keep in mind the importance of using quality materials. They may cost more initially, but in the long run will prove a saving.

A quality material such as ceramic tile may be more expensive than other types of floor or wall coverings, but according to the Tile Council of America, it will outperform virtually all other products and rarely needs to be replaced. In addition, ceramic tile requires very little care during its long years of service. It will not stain, scuff or scratch, cleans new looking with a damp mop and needs no waxing.

For every home improvement you plan, consider how long the material you select will last without showing serious signs of wear. If you take the time to install a kitchen floor, you certainly won't want to face this same project again in another three to five years. With ceramic tile you don't have to.

But there are other reasons for using quality materials such as ceramic tile. One is that they look like quality and greatly enhance the total decorative appearance of a home. They also significantly increase the resale value of property.

In addition, ceramic tile offers a large style and size selection. Within the four family groups of ceramic tile — glazed wall tile, ceramic mosaics, quarry tile and specialty tiles — there is a range of designs for greater than is generally known.

The wide choice of pattern, shape, color and texture offers the opportunity to create any mood from a Spanish influenced living room to country cottage kitchen, geometric modern party room, provincial dining room or grotto-like bath-dressing room.

Tiles range in size from small 1-inch square mosaics to impressive 12-inch square specialty tiles for both floor and wall use. These are available with high and low relief designs, in handsome matte glazes, or now, in new multi-colored patterns. Other tiles designed specifically for walls have large sculptured 3-D surfaces which create interesting light-and-shadow effects.

There are also handsome contoured tiles for use

Paneling made easy

Distinctive new walls of western wood can be added to a room in a single weekend by the do-it-yourselfer with the basic tools and some simple instructions.

A variety of solid board paneling is available, such as fir, pine, hemlock and cedar, in a range of tones and grain patterns and smooth or rough-sawn surfaces. Further interest is added with machine-molded patterns and installation designs.

For an eight-page, full-color book of ideas and a 12-page instruction book and materials list for weekend paneling projects, send 25 cents in coin to The Home Improvements Editor, The Daily Eagle, 35540 Michigan Ave., Wayne, Mich. 48184.

throughout the house and patio. In addition to hexagon, octagon, and rectangle, there are curvilinear shapes inspired by historic Moorish designs, houses in Normandy and villas in Florence. Most of these are quarry tiles made of extruded natural clay, known for their superior service for floors.

Quarry tile, once only available in the traditional earthen-red, is now offered in a large number of light-to-dark neutral colors as well as a variety of heavy-duty colorful glazes, including bright yellow, orange and blue. The specialty tiles also feature handsome rich antique glazes reminiscent of ancient palace floors.

Although ceramic tile is primarily thought of for floor and wall use, it can lend many other areas the same good looks and lasting protection. For centuries it has been one of the favorite means of decorating fireplaces, and today tiling fireplaces is a popular do-it-yourself project.

Ceramic tile also makes a very durable and decorative surface for barbecue grills. Since tiles are fire and stain resistant, they won't burn or discolor from the heat and spatters and spills can be easily wiped up.

Most types of tiles can be used for grills, but if you wish to use a glazed tile, it is advisable to use one with a heavy-duty glaze as it can be used as a cutting surface without being scratched.

Ceramic mosaics ... either the 1x1-inch, 2x2-inch, or 1x2-inch or a combination of all three sizes ... encourage making interesting barbecue grill designs. By alternating colors and sizes you can create eye-catching geometric patterns, including bold stripes and checks.

Mosaic tiles as well as quarry and paver tiles lend a new level of sophistication and efficiency to outdoor modern living. They can enhance a patio, add enrichment to a divider wall and transform a standard backyard into a showcase outdoor living area. Their very special talents for durability and wear eliminate the yearly chore of patching cement patios and walkways while adding to the value as well as appearance of your home.

The many features of ceramic tile also make it an ideal surfacing material for planters, whether indoors or out.

All proceeds go to the band fund.

Judges are announced for GM competition

Judges, comprising of a committee of citizens for the General Motors Award for Excellence in Community Activities, were announced by J. S. Garlic, GM Plant city chairman and general manager of the Hydramatic Division.

Members of the judging committee are Mrs. Natalie Edmonds, councilwoman of the City of Ypsilanti, District Judge Edward D. Deake, Dr. David H. Ponitz, president Washtenaw Community College; Robert Kerschbaum, executive director, Washtenaw United Fund; John Woods, pastor of the Bethel AME Church in Ann Arbor, and Peter B. Fletcher, president of Credit Bureau of Ypsilanti, Inc.

All employees of these three GM plants, except those directly connected with the administration of the program, are eligible to be nominated. The nomination deadline is midnight on May 15.

There is no limit to the number of nominations an individual may submit. Nominations may be made by employees, their families, members of service organizations or the general public.

Activities meriting nomination include participation in citizen's groups, youth programs, United Fund, or other community fund-raising campaigns, unusual acts of personal heroism or moral courage, service club projects in the community, interest and service in an elected or appointed public office.

Nomination forms are available at several locations throughout the plants for the convenience of GM employees, Garlic explained. In addition, they can be obtained by writing J. T. Lynch of the Hydramatic Division, Ypsilanti, Michigan.

'Antisubversive seminar' planned

An "Antisubversive seminar" will be held in the Sheraton Metro Inn, 8600 Merriman Rd., Romulus, on May 27-29 under the sponsorship of the Christian Anti-Communism Crusade of Long Beach, Calif.

The three-day seminar, sponsored in cooperation of the Michigan Citizens Committee, will begin at 9 a.m. daily.

The faculty of the seminar includes Juanita Castro, sister of Fidel Castro, Dr. Walter Judd, Herbert Philbrick and leading academicians.

In commenting on the upcoming seminar, Fred Schwarz, president of the Christian Anti-Communism Crusade, said: "In many schools, the teachers concentrate on presenting the negative features of American life while they ignore the positive aspects. As a result, many students become hostile to free enterprise, limited constitutional government and individual liberty and fall easy prey to the seduction of radical revolutionaries."

"This seminar is designed to counteract this. It will emphasize the intellectual, moral, material and humanitarian achievements of the United States and expose the false doctrines, deceitful methods and delusional promises of the communists and their allies who are seeking to destroy all that is best in this country."

BEE HIVE OBSERVATION - The annual Southeastern Michigan Beekeepers Seminar was held Saturday at the 4-H Fairgrounds near Belleville. More than 100 persons attended the one-day educational program, which featured slides, demonstrations and

Little League opens Saturday with ceremonies

The Belleville-Van Buren Little League will hold opening day ceremonies at 12 noon on Saturday, May 13.

The ceremonies will be held at the Elwell Elementary School grounds. Season games will be played at the school until the completion of new baseball diamonds at the Van Buren township hall and at the VFW Hall on Bemis Road. Elwell School is located on the corner of Elwell and Bemis roads.

Each boy playing ball either in the Farm Leagues of Little League must be present at the Elwell School at 11:30 a.m. All sponsors also are invited to be at the opening day ceremonies.

Chester Wojcie, president of the Little League Association, reported that there is still a lot of work to be done moving from the Little League's former playing location and making temporary fields at the Elwell School.

Wojcie also said many of the officials and managers are still with the league even though their boys have advanced out of Little League. He said that there is a need for more fathers to assist in maintaining Little League baseball in the community. For further information call 697-0396 or 697-9542.

The league also needs umpires. Anyone interested in officiating at games should call chief umpire, Jose R. Garcia at 697-7039.

Sickle cell task force launches effort in area

A citizens group and many professionals in Wayne County have banded together to examine the growing problems presented by sickle cell anemia.

Called the Wayne County Task Force on Sickle Cell Disease, the group is launching a concentrated effort in the out-county area.

Sickle cell disease is an inherited blood disease which affects primarily black people. Some people are just carriers of the disease and the condition they have is called sickle cell trait. This is not considered a disease and does not usually affect a person's health.

Sickle cell anemia is a disease which causes red blood cells, normally round, to assume a sickle or crescent shape. These sickled blood cells jam up in small blood vessels and block the flow of blood, causing severe pain from time to time.

These abnormal blood cells also tend to wear out faster than the body can replace them, so that the victims of sickle cell anemia may be tired and pale. One out of every 400 black Americans has sickle cell anemia.

The Wayne County Task Force on Sickle Cell Disease has begun to distribute educational materials on sickle cell disease through the Wayne County Department of Health. The task force would like to assist groups to plan educational programs on sickle cell disease for the community and schools.

Student wins math contest

The winner of the 1972 Eastern Michigan University Junior High Math contest for the Huron School District is Judy Edge.

Judy, an eighth grade student, scored highest on a determining test administered by junior high math teachers, Nancy Ritter and Charles Dittmar.

On April 22, Judy and her mother, Mrs. Emma Edge of New Boston took part in activities at the university. Judy was especially interested in a computer demonstration that was presented.

The runners-up in the contest were Julia Havenstein, eighth grader; and Sandra Wilk, a seventh grader.

Programs in other areas have included detection programs to screen for carriers of the sickle cell trait. The possible inclusion of detection programs is still being explored by the task force.

The initial target population for screening and for genetic counseling would be young people of high school age because such information and counseling would be especially useful to people before they have made their decisions on marriage and family.

One out of every 10 black Americans is a carrier of the sickling trait. If two carriers marry and have children, each time a child is born there is a one in four chance that the child will have sickle cell anemia.

Most black Americans who are carriers of the sickle cell trait do not know it. A simple but special blood test can determine if a person has sickle cell trait. All black persons in the child bearing age should find out whether they are carriers of the sickle cell trait.

Education and detection programs have already been conducted in high schools in other areas, including Willow Run and Ypsilanti. The Detroit Board of Education has arranged to begin sickle cell screening of 11th and 12th graders next year through the Sickle Cell Center at Kirwood Hospital.

For more information about the Wayne County Task Force on Sickle Cell Disease call 274-2800, extension 6972.

A THOUGHT TO REMEMBER

BY HAROLD REDISKE, DIRECTOR

Mother's Day thoughts Most mothers never entered (or thought about) a beauty contest - but NO mother is a Plain Jane. She rarely, if ever, admits she is some one set apart; some one special; but every mother has a special identity - all her own. Many mothers feel, and with good reason, that they have been 'used' ... feel they have been 'taken for granted' ... And, lets face it - can any one deny such feeling is unwarranted?

On Mother's Day - we think back ... We know mother IS some one special ... a special character who constantly tried to shape our character for the best. In thinking back, we realize we can never repay her for her uncountable acts of kindness ... her gifts of patience, love and sacrifice. Nor can we reimburse her for the tears she shed for us in times past.

What better time is there for us to rededicate ourselves to do better - to make our lives more meaningful to God and our fellow man? Would not a message of such intent, by letter, card, phone or personal visit ... or promise by prayer ... be a priceless gift to her? ...

You'll like, also, the molded carved design effect of special woodlike plastic on triple door dresser, door chest and night stand. Intricate, heavy metal hardware reflects the latin love of elaborate ornamentation. Selected pine solids and hardboard are finished in a particularly appealing oak tone. For extra practicality, all drawers are mounted on easy-gliding runners and all tops are of perfectly-matched high-pressure plastic. Vivid...dramatic...exquisitely detailed, here is a suite that captures the very essence of Mediterranean luxury!
